Board Plans New School

Dr. Lynch smiles at receiving plaque.

The Board of Education governs the seven schools under the Athens Area System. It consists of nine members who are responsible for all the policies for the schools, and a secretary who records all proceedings. Their numerous tasks include determining the budget, hiring personnel and deciding on such pertinent issues as student or teacher behavior. The members are elected for five year terms at the public elections. They meet once a month at the high school, and both their sessions and the secretary's notes are open. The public is encouraged to attend, to become aware of, and involved in their children's education. As a special project the board is finishing plans for a middle school to help fulfill their goal of providing the best possible educational system for the area.

Richard W. Marvin
Superintendent of Schools

They're parking in the wrong parking lot again?

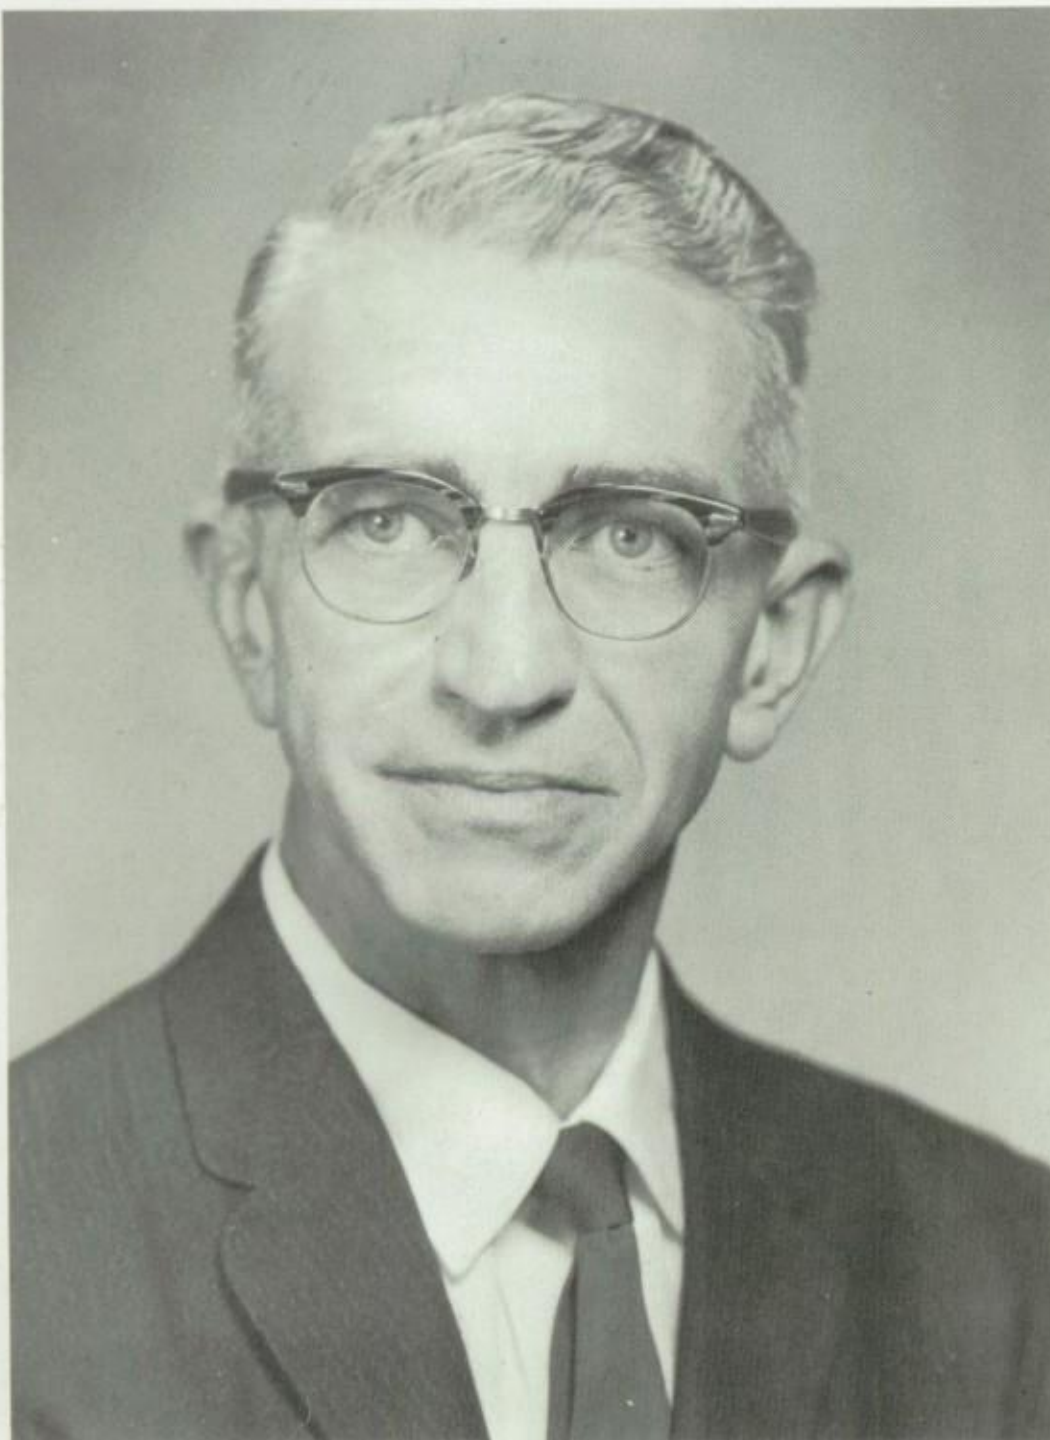

Mr. Marvin is the superintendent for the Athens Area School District. He has been connected with our school system either as a faculty member or as an administrator for twenty-eight years. He is responsible for checking the overall performance of our school and seeing that the school boards policies are carried out. Mr. Marvin is very proud of our student-teacher relationships. He states that the students in our school are granted far more freedom and privileges than is usual. This is because they have proved themselves worthy of trust, and he expects they will continue to do so. Mr. Marvin commented that our student behavior and appearance, both in school and at social functions, is commendable.

James Pruyne
High School Principal

Mr. Pruyne, who has taught in our school system since 1941, has served as the high school principal for six years. Many times the Athenian has recorded facts concerning our principals; this is a collection of thoughts offered by Mr. Pruyne.

Over the years our student behavior patterns have changed, just as our society has. In 1970 we see a greater self-assertion for independence in our schools, but this is expected due to the influence filtering down from the world at large. It is debatable whether the attitudes of the students themselves have changed, or simply the movements influencing the young. This is the age of strikes, protests, demonstrations.

Athens has a much lower level of dope and truancy than most schools in our state. The drop-out rate is very low, while the percentage of graduates going on to school is very high. The students are cooperative, and respond well to constructive criticism. Our high school records give us much to be proud of, as in many areas we are outstanding in the state.

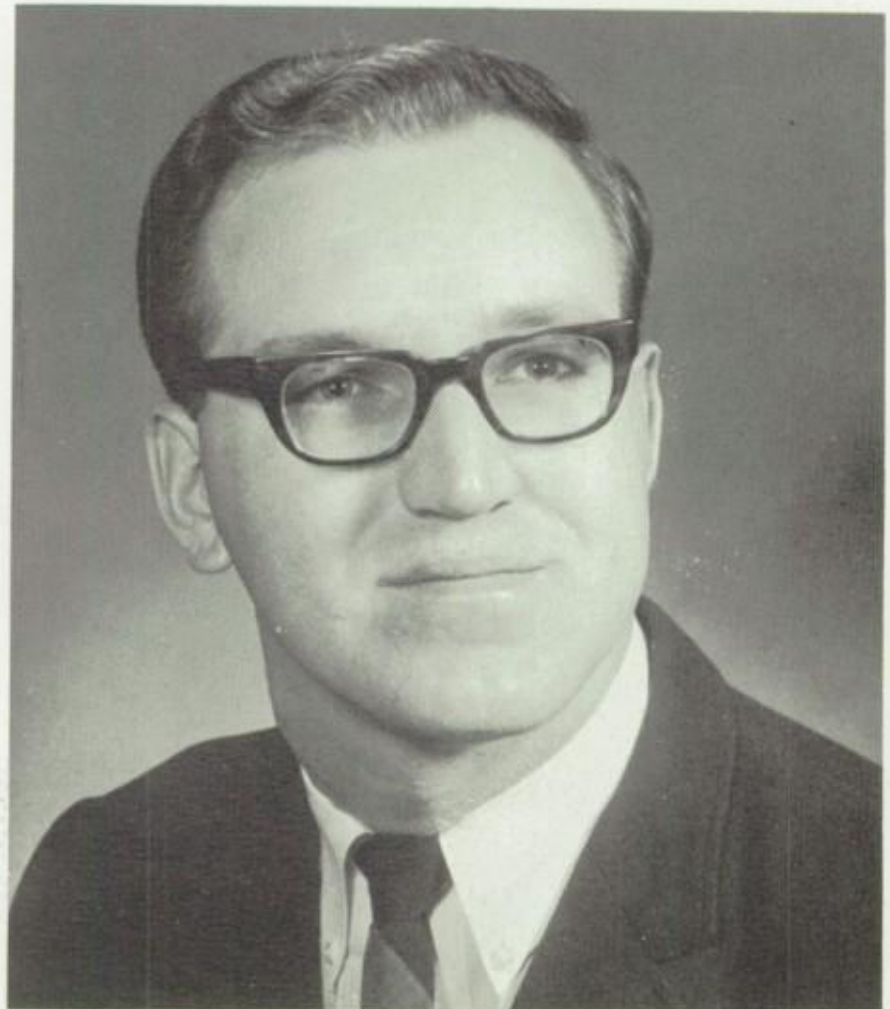

Miles Raker
Assistant Superintendent

Mr. Raker has held the position of Business Manager or faculty member in our school system since 1943. His main responsibilities include the selection and ordering of school supplies, the supervision of our janitorial staff, and the handling of transportation. Due to his occupation, Mr. Raker can speak with authority on our school building and equipment. He states that is superior in our variety of visual-aids and their use. In this period of wide-spread vandalism, Mr. Raker notes that our students are both considerate of the materials they use and mature in their attitude toward school property. Athens High School is ten years old in 1970, yet because of the excellent maintenance division, its appearance is still clean and functional. When asked his opinion on our student body, he remarked that we have very good student leadership. In particular, our student council has done an excellent job both in governing and making suggestions to the administration.

Mr. Cerutti's composure belies the fact he has a great variety of duties all involving much tension. As teacher he instructs all the classes in mechanical drawing. As head of the industrial arts department he orders all supplies and coordinates all activities of that department. As assistant athletic director he schedules games, hires officials, and supervises ticket sales. As assistant principal he spends the summer months scheduling students. During the school year he fosters the maintenance of the high standard of discipline characteristic of Athens High School and copes with whatever problems may arise. As friend he is acquainted with most of the individuals who comprise the AHS society and offers advice or encouragement whenever it is needed.

Secretaries Brighten Offices

The general office secretaries, Mrs. Crowley and Miss Murphy, are responsible to our principal, Mr. Pruyne. Both also work for Mr. Cerutti, assistant principal and athletic director. Mrs. Crowley's many duties include handling student eligibility, athletic insurance and claims. The switchboard operator, Miss Murphy, keeps all student records and schedules, and types all school tests.

Miss Virginia Robinson, the guidance office secretary, handles all the correspondence for the office. She obtains college and occupational information for interested pupils, and arranges appointments with the counselors.

Working in the business office are Mrs. Arnold, Mrs. Robinson, and Mrs. Conkling, who are responsible for the school's financial bookwork. They are the secretaries for our school superintendent and our business manager. Mrs. Arnold is also secretary for the Board of Education, and much of the smooth efficiency of our school is the result of her efforts.

Big Brother Policy Gets Results

This year the guidance department initiated tutorial assistance for students suffering academically. Victims of prolonged illness were no longer slighted. Upperclassmen came to their rescue with valuable knowledge and wisdom. The department also served as an informative agency for students interested in futhering their education, and those in search of employment. As ever, the counselors made themselves available to students in need of assistance.

The Special Education department established a second class this year; consequently, more time was devoted to the needs of the individual. Students took pride in their projects covering the solar system. With the assistance of their teachers, they prepared themselves for occupations after graduation. Progress was apparent and students learned further how to cope with problems most prevalent in today's society.

Library Receives Micro-Film Reader

Students at Athens are very fortunate in being both well-prepared and well-equipped in their literary skills. As tomorrow's leaders, they will work in the realm of ideas and communication. The reading department and the library work together to promote communication between Athens students and the world outside of school. The library, an invaluable tool of the student, provides reference materials as well as a wide selection of books. Many aids are available for the use of teachers or students such as a listening center for foreign languages and a 3-m photo copier. Our library was recently given a micro-film reader. The Reading department strives to improve the students' reading ability, a vital building block of learning. Under the direction of the Reading Co-ordinator, the department is programmed to aid the individual student on his own level.

Musical And Artistic Talent Encouraged

Students in junior high grades receive general music instruction. The aim of the courses is to cultivate music appreciation through listening to records, learning its history, and becoming familiar with the famous composers. Also included in the classes are note reading and singing. Junior high band provides opportunities in orchestral instruction. Ninth, tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grade instrumentalists are eligible for senior band. Of these students, some are chosen to perform in the stage band which plays a more specialized type of music.

Outstanding performers are selected for district and regional band.

Art courses are required for junior high students. Basics, such as perspective, colors, and shading are developed at this level. Interested and talented senior high pupils are encouraged to elect Art I, II, and III. Projects are far more detailed, and more personal instruction is possible. The courses are geared both for enjoyment and as a preparation to careers in art.

Communication

The language offerings of Athens High School consist of English and two foreign languages, French and German. The English program of the junior high school centers in the structure and function of the technical aspects of the language. Literature is presented with enjoyment the primary aim. Writing focuses on the development of the paragraph. In senior high school less emphasis is placed on the formal structure of the language and more on the application of that structure in reading closely and writing clearly. The structure and interpretation of various literary forms is taught and more extensive writing, both analytical and creative, is done.

Students have an opportunity to become proficient in two foreign languages. French is introduced in the upper elementary grades so it is possible for a student to complete five years of study in this language. All aspects of the language are dealt with in detail — oral, written, and cultural.

German is a part of the 7th and 8th grade curriculum. A student therefore may complete four years of German Study. In German, as in French, emphasis is placed not only on the technicalities of language but also on the everyday life of the people for whom German is the native tongue.

History Has Various Goals

The history department carries out its multi-fold purpose by offering varied courses in the American way of life. Through Civics, an intense study of our government and its relationship to the public, or American History, a detailed study of our heritage, the student is challenged to broaden his understanding of the responsibilities of citizenship. To help the student grow in awareness of our changing world and increasingly complex society, courses in World Culture and European History are offered. In his twelfth year, he may elect Problems of Democracy, which emphasizes both the similarities and differences between our country and others. The courses are geared to help the student to think and evaluate for himself, and establish a strong sense of responsibility. He should be more willing and better equipped to recognize his rights and protect them.

Math Department Offers New Course

This year the Math department has made several changes and additions to meet the demands of our society. Seventh and eighth grade courses reinforce the basic laws of contemporary math and introduce the fundamentals of Algebra and Geometry; or he may enter an intermediate math course. The eleventh grade pupil is given the choice of trigonometry, or again, intermediate math. Advanced math, a combined term of algebra and calculus, and Refresher math, a review of basic concepts, are the two electives offered to Seniors. A new course, dealing with concepts essential to efficient shop work, is now available to the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades.

New Phases Of Home Economics Explored

Does the bobbin go up here too?

Home Economics, a phase of life essential to anyone's training, is offered at Athens. The main function of the Home Ec Department is to make students aware of daily needs and to prepare them for future roles. While, generally, this course is thought of as cooking and sewing, the fields being explored are becoming wider and more varied. The junior high grades have required courses in general homemaking, emphasizing fashions and food. In senior high school, Home Ec may be either an elective or a high school major. The sophomore, junior, and senior courses concern family relations, clothing, foods and housing, geared to each grade level.

A new field of study is Consumer Education, buying and budgeting. In addition to the basic Home Ec courses, students may elect either Interior Decorating or Advanced Sewing. Each provides the opportunity to learn detailed skills and further educational interests.

Tabulating Machine To Be Added

The greater percentage of communication in our country takes place in our business offices. For this reason, the high school business department strives to thoroughly prepare its students for occupations immediately after graduation. Through courses in typing, shorthand, business arithmetic, bookkeeping, business law, office practice, and data processing, students are instructed in the fundamentals of office procedures. The department is growing considerably and plans to add a tabulating machine, a course in consumer education, and an expanded data processing course.

The seventh and eighth grade science program is designed to familiarize the student with basic concepts. It is on the basis of interests developed in these classes that more specialized courses are elected. Ninth grade biology includes such laboratory techniques as dissection, controlled experiments, and microscopic investigation. Physical science is divided into a one semester introduction to physics, and one semester of chemistry fundamentals. In his eleventh year the student may elect either a full chemistry course or earth science. Although not a lab course earth science provides an excellent foundation for future study. Physics, taken in the student's twelfth year, is an application of all high school math-algebra, geometry, trigonometry, and calculus — to explain natural phenomena.

The shop department consists of four main areas: auto shop, wood shop, vocational agriculture and mechanical drawing. Auto shop, offered in the eighth, eleventh, and twelfth grades, is divided into two areas — one semester of electronics and one of metal shop. Seventh grade students in wood shop learn to use basic machines and hand tools. Senior high wood shop, or industrial arts I, provides the opportunity to work with wood and plastics. A study of the materials and processes is considered from the industrial viewpoint and students operate industrial machines. Mechanical Drawing, a ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth grade course, is an introduction to the procedures used with instruments pertaining to the field of drafting. Industrial drawing develops an opportunity to interpret and express thoughts graphically.

Versatility Scores Again

The physical education department has emphasized this year the importance of physical fitness. A wide variety of new sports activities have been introduced to the students in the hope they will become more versatile and better acquainted with once uncovered areas of fitness. Encouraged students who play an active role in physical fitness are fulfilling the objectives set up by the staff. Students, when they are no longer students, will be inspired to maintain their physical attributes and continue taking part in recreational activities. Personality and character are an integral part of sports and have been concentrated on.

Boys have covered such units as basketball, volleyball, softball, wrestling, and soccer. Mass team games and relays have also been effective in promoting fitness and healthy attitudes. New facilities have been provided, such as the trampoline, peg-boards, and uneven parallel bars. Girls have explored such new activities as gymnastics, marching, modern dancing, rope jumping, and tennis.

Swimming is now mandatory for junior high students. Since the swimming staff has been increased this year, more has been accomplished. Instruction has been geared toward increasing swimming ability and safety skills. Attention has been given to the non-swimmer and the beginner, in order that he will progress and become accustomed to the sport. Survival swimming skills have been taught at all levels. In fact, a section of ninth grade boys covered an entire unit on survival. This aspect of swimming is essential to all interested in aquatic skills. In the future, it is hoped that a senior high elective program will be put into effect in order that the fair, and good swimmer will have an opportunity to learn advanced skills.

SCHOOL LIFE

Homecoming Is Busy Weekend

This year's annual Homecoming parade, held Saturday P.M., November 1, 1969, was the most successful one to date. In it were thirteen floats, representing numerous clubs and organizations within the school. Both the Towanda and the Athens bands marched while important officials of the community rode in autos donated by businessmen of the valley.

For this event Athens hosted the Towanda Black Knights. The presentation of the candidates for Homecoming Queen, Miss Karen Comstock, Miss Linda Wheeler, and Miss Ann Hubish was part of the pre-game activities. Because the Homecoming game was such a special day of the season, the boys' mothers were presented with chrysanthemum corsages, and seats on the fifty-yard line were provided for the parents. After the contest, a cider sip was held in the cafeteria in honor of the boys on the team and their parents.

Homecoming beauty.

Dracula reigns over Athens

They could have danced all night

Seniors were no. 1!

"Oh, my poor feet"

A program well done

Veterans' Day — Cooperation

Athens High School commemorated Veterans' Day, 1969, to encourage an awareness of our country's heritage and present conditions. Several departments dedicated the entire day to discussions of loyalty, patriotism, and responsibility. The Art department depicted various scenes from our battle-grounds on the windows of the Third Street corridor. In the afternoon, assemblies for both junior and senior high were held. The senior band, majorettes, and glee club participated in providing thought-provoking musical selections about the United States. Valley ministers were called upon for the invocation and closing prayer. During the program, four entirely different viewpoints were presented in speeches by our school principal, a teacher, a senior girl, and a seventh grade boy. The tone of the entire day was summed up when Reverend William Stanton asked for forgiveness for our "lack of peace among nations, lack of peace within our own country, and lack of peace among those deciding how best to secure it."

Touched the hearts and souls

In tribute

Come on — you can hit that note!

Happiness is singing together.

A Time For Giving

With so many people labeling our present society as materialistic, it is a refreshing change to hear of exceptions. The 1970 senior class had as its very unmaterialistic theme for their Christmas Ball "A Time For Giving." The cafeteria was decorated like an old fashioned cabin with the stage altered to serve as a huge fireplace, hung with stockings and candy canes. Under a large, traditional Christmas tree, each couple at the dance placed a wrapped present to be donated to the Salvation Army. The corridors outside the cafeteria were decorated to give the impression of snowy paths. The Soul Association, a black and white band, provided the dance music.

Did you hear what I hear!

Queen of the ball

The crown is becoming!

The candidates for Miss Recreation were chosen by the members of the council from all the senior girls. Annette Quatrini was chosen Miss Recreation by the students attending the dance. Diane Davis was runner up. Each candidate received a charm and a gift. Music for the dance was provided by the "Cats Meow".

Fashion Show Presents Cupid's Cuties

The Senior High Home Economics Classes, on February 14, 1970, presented a "Valentine of Fashions" Show with Cupid's Cuties as models. Exhibiting fashion that they had made themselves, the girls looked confident on such an appropriate day. Guests consisted of women faculty members, mothers, and friends of the girls. Refreshments were served throughout the program.

The event was held in the cafeteria, and the stage was decorated to look like a valentine with a huge heart attached to the front of the stage, through which the girls walked. A runway extended to the end of the cafeteria along which the models walked displaying their garments. The hallway was decorated with tiny cupids suspended from the ceiling and crepe paper in white and red. As the girls garments were described, piano music was furnished by Vicki Jordan and Linda Shuman. Descriptions were presented by Sharon Foster and Ann Marie Wolf.

Happy Hunting!

Look MOD!

Foreign Guest Arrives In Athens

Daniel Tubello turned seventeen years of age on April 3, 1970. He celebrated his birthday several thousand miles from his home, Argentina. Daniel is Athens High School's foreign exchange student who arrived during the second semester. He spoke no English at all, and had no relatives or friends in our area. Despite these handicaps, Daniel very quickly adjusted to both our way of life and our school system. Within weeks, he began answering questions in English about his home town, government, and school system. We feel very fortunate at having Daniel as our guest at Athens, the Rotary Club being his sponsor.

Oh my aching feet.

Don't touch that dial.

I've never been to a record hop before.

Hop Surprises Everyone

The Sophomore Hop was held on March 21, from 8:30-11:30. The theme was "Spring is in the Air." The setting was a park in the springtime. The hall was lined with colorful trees and tables. In the center of the cafeteria was a pond with a foot bridge going over it. Across the back wall was spelled out "Spring is in the Air" with colored tissue flowers. The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Summers, Mr. and Mrs. Heaps, and Mrs. Broughton and Mr. Weaver, class advisors. Although the group hired were unable to appear, the hop was still very beautiful and very rewarding.

I'll start on my diet tomorrow!

Slow-Slow-Quick-Quick

Mr. Pruyne Applauded

The Senior Banquet was held Thursday evening, May 28, in the high school cafeteria. The theme of the entertainment, "The Senior Review," was carried through in the decorations. The entertainment featured Margaret White as Mistress of Ceremonies, and also numerous musical selections. Trophies were awarded to those seniors who had been chosen by their classmates. The Class Will was read after the dinner amid laughter and applause. The school dignitaries were each asked to comment, and Mr. Pruyne received a standing ovation. The tone of the evening was light and happy, suggesting a pride in accomplishment.

"Water, cool, cool water"

Athens Presents Its First Water Ballet

"Sounds of the Sixties" was the theme of the first water ballet ever presented at Athens High School. The synchronized swim club began preparing the show several months in advance. Twelve routines were created and perfected, costumes sewn for sixty swimmers, and music and lighting arranged. An audience of nearly four hundred people attended the ballet, many standing the entire time. The program included a solo, two duets, two trios, and several group numbers. The routines were gracefully executed, and the evening's performances followed the program smoothly. Mr. Peters and Mrs. Shiffler were given special thanks at the end of the ballet for all their time, energy, and patience as co-directors.

Two little fishies

As a mermaid, I had a thrilling life.

Band And Chorus Present Patio Concert

The Spring Concert, held in the inside patio this year, was held on May 20, 1970. Singing before a full house, the Glee Club, directed by Mr. Allford, launched the music of the evening with eight lively, light numbers featuring several soloists. The selections of the Glee Club this year were a variety of contemporary, folk, country, and pop music.

Next on the agenda was the Senior Band. They entertained the audience with four numbers, ranging from marches to international selections.

The Mixed Chorus offered the finale of the concert, presenting a variety of contemporary pieces. Miss Joan Kell led this group with the aid of her two accompanists, Vicki Jordan and Karen Newberry.

Is it straight?

Maybe we could get a double exposure.

Paris For A Night

May 9, 1970 was the date for this year's Junior-Senior Prom. The theme was "Under Paris Skies" which was portrayed with sidewalk cafes along the sides of the gym. The gym bleachers were covered with murals of French shops. Alternating canopies of bright yellow and green extended out from the sides of the gym to white poles. Window boxes separated the cafes from the gym floor. Other decorations consisted of a mural of Notre Dame and kiosk. The candidates for prom queen were Annette Quatrini, Carol Knott and Diane Davis. At ten o'clock the queen Diane Davis was crowned. Music was furnished by the Cats Meow.

Daisy, Daisy —

Cry on my shoulder.

A neat group.

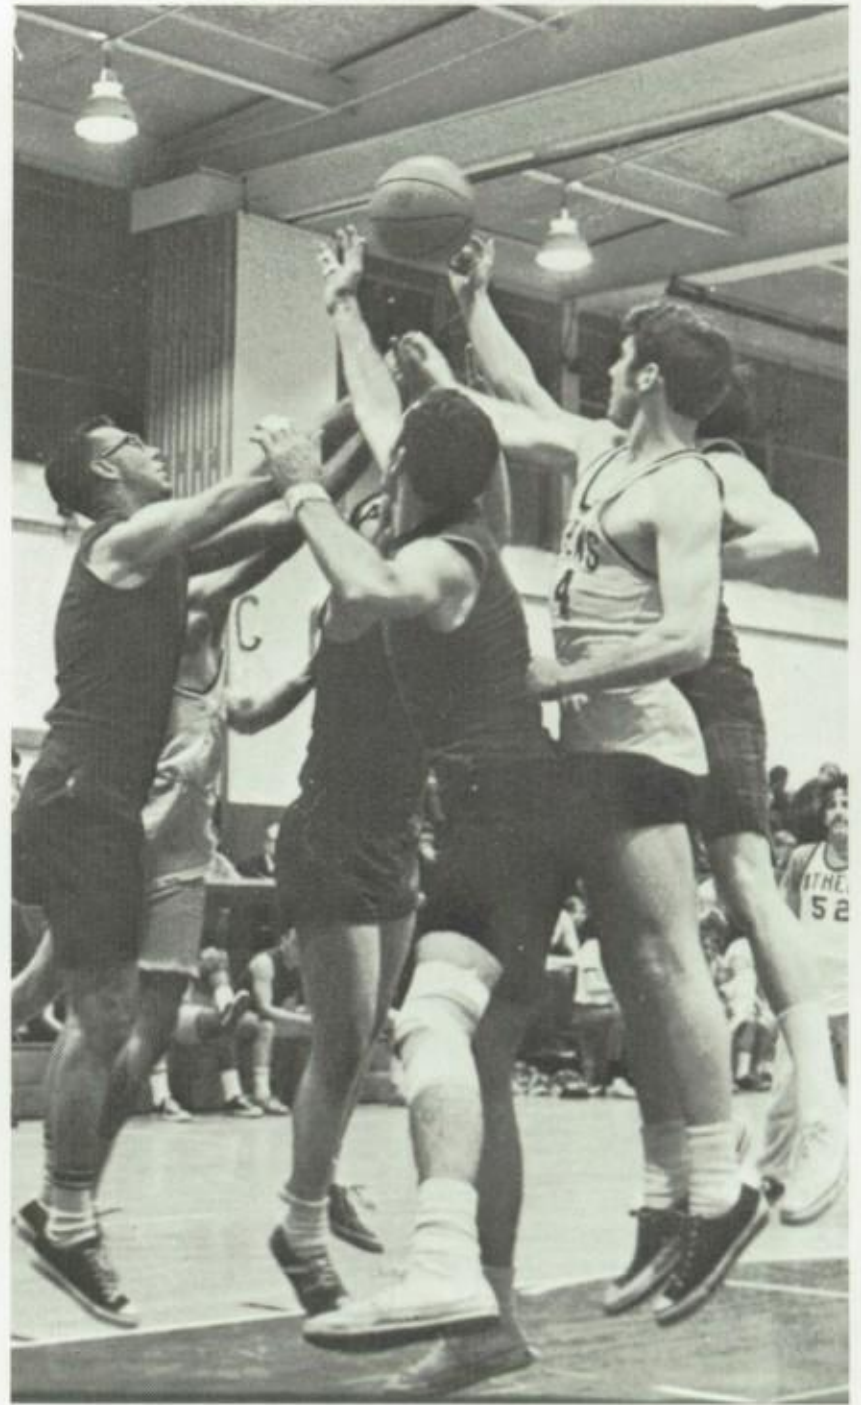

Don't you think they're playing AWFULLY rough?

Faculty Upsets Seniors

The annual Faculty Basketball game was held in March of 1970. First on the agenda was a rival game between the Cheerleaders and Majorettes in which the cheerleaders met defeat with the score, 8 to 4. Next, to get the evening into full swing, was the Swimmers vs. Wrestlers game, with the Wrestlers victorious. The climax of the evening was brought about by the Senior Boys — Faculty game. In an attempt to overthrow the teachers, the students lost another game with another preposterous score.

"If you want it, here it is, come and get it . . ."

Look up if you've ever seen it.

Our Beloved Faculty!

Donkeys Invited Back

For the second consecutive year Show Brothers brought their donkeys into the Athens High School gymnasium to be ridden in the donkey basketball game. Introduced by the Varsity Club, this unique entertainment has been a successful money-making event. Teams are composed of faculty members challenging members of the Varsity Club. Five players from each team are allowed on the playing court at a time. Points are obtained by making a basket while on the back of a donkey. Led this year by Mr. Peters, the faculty defeated the lettermen by an overwhelming score.

"Haven't I seen you somewhere before?"

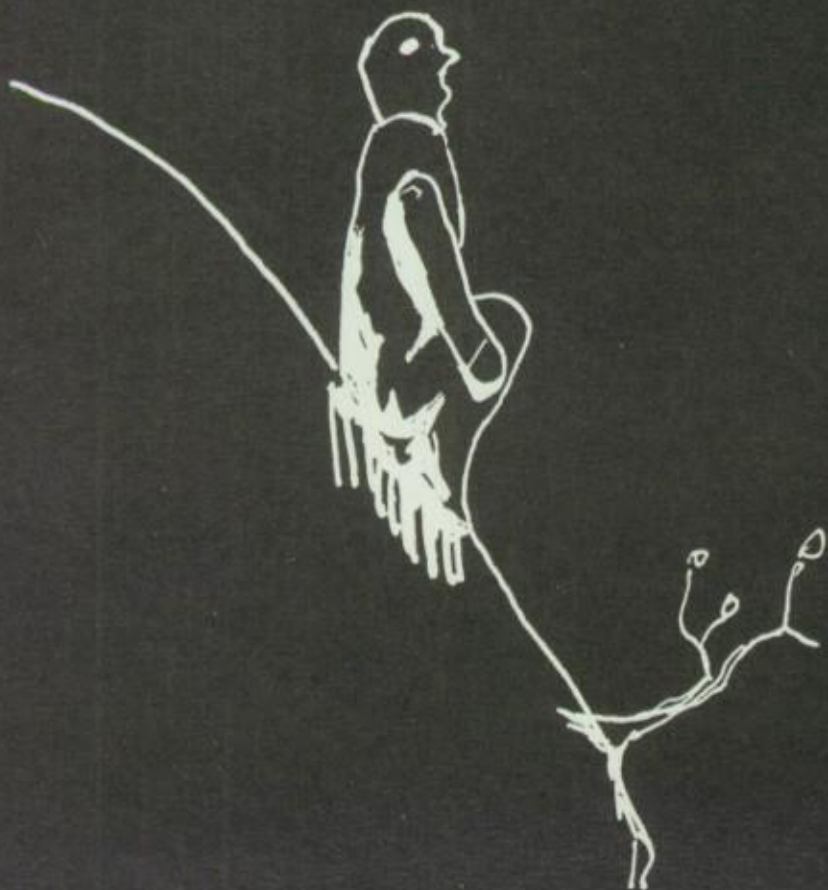

"Gets out even the toughest dirt & grime!"

"If I ever get out of this alive, I'll be back for you."

Senior Council Revises Constitution

Under the leadership of President Karen Bowen, the Senior High Student Council, as two of their main projects this year, changed the process of elections and revised and ratified the new constitution. In an attempt to provide more efficient and democratic representation elections were held in each senior high homeroom where one or two representatives were chosen according to the number of candidates running in each particular homeroom. Also, this year a president and vice president were elected as opposed to former process of voting on a vice president with the plan of ascending to the presidency.

Other activities of the council were planning and participating in Environmental Day, helping to support the foreign exchange student, altering the election of homecoming queen, and combating vandalism.

Junior Council Becomes Activated

This year, the Junior High Student Council, sponsored by Mrs. Jones, has tried to work parallel to the Senior High Student Council on projects such as conquering vandalism. At Christmas time the Junior Student Council collected toys and other objects which were given to the Salvation Army for needy children. The Council also made itself a part of Earth Day activities by cleaning up the School grounds.

In previous years, the Council consisted of one member elected from each junior high homeroom. This year, however, two members were elected from each homeroom. The Junior High Student Council body has been kept informed of issues discussed by the council through homeroom reports after each meeting.

It's that a-way.

Senior FHA Serves Community

Led by president Suanne Warren, and sponsor, Mrs. Broughton, the Senior Future Homemakers of America have three goals on which they center their activities: to provide wholesome and group recreation; to encourage democracy in home and community; to emphasize the importance of worthy home membership.

The Senior F.H.A. met every other week at which time they planned a program to follow that month to fulfill one of their goals. This year the girls worked for the Cancer Society and at Christmas time sent greeting cards to our boys in Vietnam. Tomasso's restaurant hosted the girls for the annual Mother-Daughter banquet.

Attending the state convention held at Harrisburg in March were six representatives from the Athens chapter. Suanne Warren attended the National Convention, marking a first for Athens.

Junior F.H.A. Conducts Projects

"For our next demonstration"

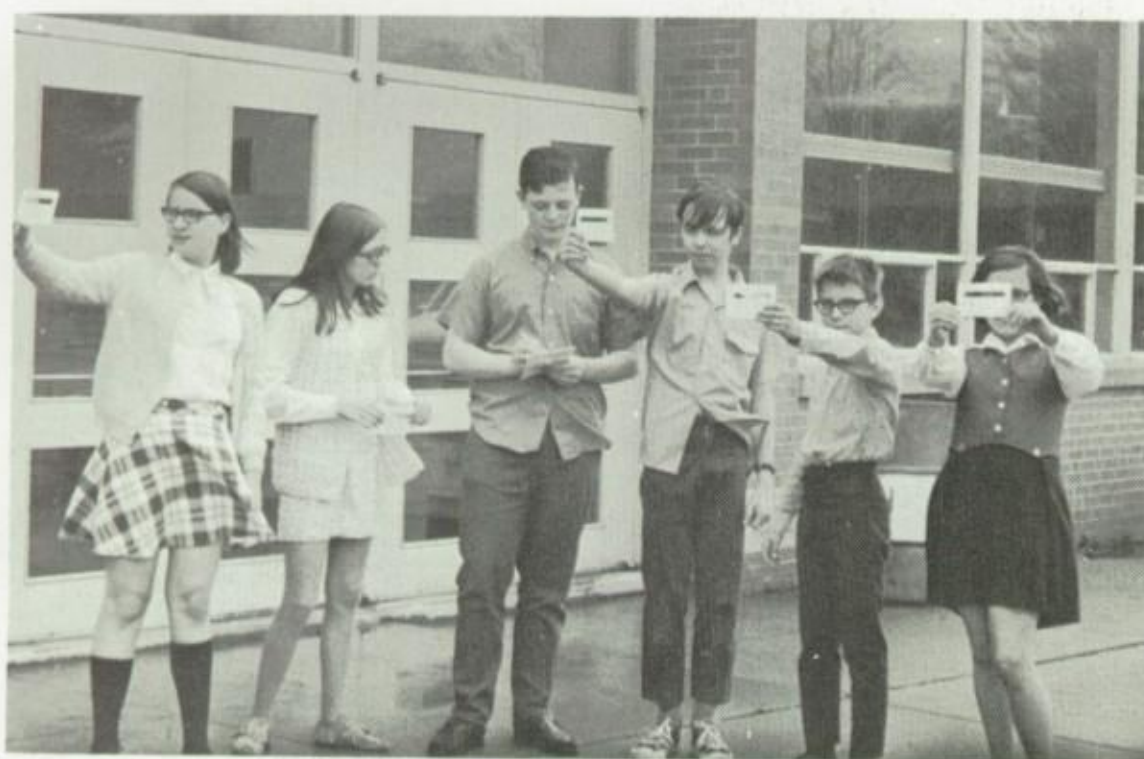

The Junior F.H.A. had seventeen active members this year under the supervision of Mrs. McDonald. They participated in many money-making projects which included a bake sale, a dance, and sales of T-shirts and sachets. The money from these projects was spent on F.H.A. pins, a Mother-Daughter Banquet held at Tomasso's April 23, and a donation to a community organization. They also participated in the Homecoming Parade. Officers this year were: President — Cathy Gehris, Vice President — Mary Lou Allen, and Treasurer — Rae Whipple.

Science Club Visits Planetarium

Sponsored by Mrs. Wilkinson, the Science Club wishes to develop in students an interest in science and to encourage a growth in ability. Started this year, the club already has become extremely active. At the Binghamton Roberson Center for Arts and Sciences, the club viewed the planetarium show. Other field trips scheduled consisted of a tour of the sewage treatment plant along with various nature study programs. For the Homecoming parade, this organization entered a float depicting the lunar landing site. The Science Club met the first activity period of every week and charged dues of twenty-five cents monthly. Presiding officers were: President — Dale Jarvis; vice president — Richard Smith; treasurer — Karen Horton; Secretary — Pat Carberry. Filmstrips, along with lectures, provided entertainment for the meetings.

Junior Dramatics Club Organized

The Junior Dramatics Club is a newly formed group this year with Mrs. Covey as the advisor. Its purpose is to give the Junior-High more activities, and to stimulate interest in dramatics. They meet the first activity period of each week and have about sixty active members. They learn stage techniques and various speech methods. They have produced two plays and a talent show. Along with having fun, they can earn Thespian points and will have more experience when they are of age for Stage Guild. There has been much enthusiasm shown by this club which will pave the way for more Junior-High activities.

Rock And Mineral Club Uses Diamond Saw

Push this button.

See this, Mr. Keir.

The Rock and Mineral Club, after being inactive for a year, has been renewed this year and is again taking its place on the activity calendar. It is hoped that this club encourages more appreciation and a better understanding of geology and mineralogy. The members also show an interest in paleontology of fossils. President, Gary Wintermute, his officers, vice president, Randy Gates, and secretary-treasurer Carol Carney have planned a full slate of activities. The group has taken field trips to Wyalusing and Horseheads where they viewed private rock collections. They also took part in the Treasure Chest Gem and Mineral Show sponsored by the Che-Hanna Rock and Mineral Club.

At their once-a-week meetings, the members have studied the fluorescent collection (in the dark room!) using the ultra-violet light. Films and filmstrips have been presented and at each meeting door prizes have been presented by the club's sponsor, Mr. Keir, to improve the club members' collections. New equipment added to the club this year is a diamond saw for cutting rocks and lapidary equipment useful in polishing stones and gems for jewelry.

FFA Participates In Contests

One of the most active clubs in our school is the Future Farmers of America, advised by Mr. Leonard. Their objective is to develop agricultural leadership, cooperation, and citizenship. The organization is led by Tom Campbell, president, Jack Arnold, vice president, Pat Campbell, secretary, Curtis Doctor, treasurer, Mike Horner, reporter, Rick Beeman, sentinel, Gene Millard, chaplain. One of their main purposes is to provide and encourage rural recreational activities. They do this by participation in county FFA contests which include farming programs such as farm mechanics, tractor driving, forestry, public speaking, dairy judging, land judging, and dairy cattle showing. They meet once a month during the school year, boys plan and participate in swimming parties, hayrides, skating parties, and challenge other schools in the county to softball and basketball games. Among other worthy aims, the FFA wishes to instill in their members more interest and intelligent thought in choosing farming occupations, to encourage improvement in scholarship, and to create and keep growing a love of country life.

Yearbook Undergoes Revisals

This year marks the printing of the 129th edition of the Athenian. The Athenian is the oldest name in yearbook history, and the staff works hard to produce an improved, up-to-date book every year. Among many changes made this year, the literary staff was greatly reduced in size, allowing the editor to work with each individual. The business staff was given special instruction in advertising and soliciting procedures. Although most of the photography was done by a professional, many candids were taken by a photographer from our own school. There were many organizational changes, and the format of the book was altered. Color pictures and a senior directory are a few examples of these changes. Instead of the usual advertisement section at the end, the patrons sponsored a page in the book, greatly reducing production costs.

Teaogan Publishes Special Issue

The Teaogan, our school newspaper, was originally formed in 1947 by Dr. Bresee. At present, the Teaogan staff consists of approximately forty-five members who have published five issues this year. Besides the regular paper, a special issue on pollution was produced and passed out to the student body as the Teaogan's role on

"Earth Day."

The purpose of the Teaogan is to be a forum for student opinion and to reflect what is happening in our school. The staff is sponsored by Mr. Gregory who graduated from A.H.S. and is a former editor of the Teaogan.

Quill And Scroll Fosters Journalism

Have you guys ever had your pictures taken?

Quill and Scroll, sponsored by Mrs. Bresee, was first started in our school five years ago. It is an honorary high school society for students interested and working in the field of journalism. It strives to make them more aware of good writing.

To become members of Quill and Scroll, students must have done a sufficient amount of work in the production of Athenian or the Teaogan. A tea is given by the chapter to receive new members in the spring. Each new member receives a subscription of the Quill and Scroll magazine, paid for by the chapter.

Art Of Photography Demonstrated

As of this year, the Photography Club made its first attempt to establish an organization whereby its members could study the varied aspects of photography and enhance their knowledge of film production. They have followed procedures and set precedents for future members. Pictures have been taken methodically with the guidance of the Photography Club head, Mr. Pokego. Members learned proper methods of taking effective pictures in order to capture the beauty of surrounding works of art, including nature itself. As each member learned and acted according to his training and individual experience, he was able to create a certain mood in each of his pictures. Through study and encouragement in the field of photography, members have become more aware of the detail and beauty of their surroundings.

National Honor Society Recognizes Scholarship

The objective of the Athens chapter of the National Honor Society is to stimulate desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in the students.

Members are chosen by a council consisting of the Principal and four faculty members. Five per cent of the sophomore class, ten per cent of the junior class, and sixteen per cent of the senior class may be admitted each year.

Membership is based on scholarship, service, leadership, and character. A 4.0 average is required. Members are inducted in early spring and honored by a tea afterwards. Meetings are held at least once a month during school activity periods.

The National Honor Society has been responsible for school announcements, flag duty, and a job-employment agency, which was initiated in the Guidance Office this year. Through this agency, the club hopes to help students find part-time jobs.

And Thespians Provide Entertainment

The Thespians are an honorary group of actors and technicians. The members have achieved membership by their participation (both on-stage and off) in the dramatic performances, which are produced by the Stage Guild. To become a member one must receive ten points. These points are worded by the sponsor, in accordance with the regulations established by the International Thespians Society. If a member gains more than ten points, he is awarded a Thespian star for every extra ten points. Members strive for as many points as possible, and some receive as many as three stars.

The initiation into Thespians is an impressive performance. It is a candle lighted affair with speeches given by the officers of the society. The officers this year are: president — Mike Rosh, vice president — Betsy Winston, secretary — David Chacona, treasurer — Carol Knott.

The National Thespian Society has changed this year to the International Thespian Society. Through the meetings that members attend throughout the country, the Athens Thespians are able to gain a better understanding of the world.

"Now, tell the truth. Have you had it?"

Varsity Club Buys Flowers

A relatively new organization added to the Athens High School roster of clubs is the Varsity Club. Only two years old, this organization has done much to instill better sportsmanship in athletes and has promoted many social and fund raising events. The Varsity Club sponsors Parents' Day on Homecoming at which time the mothers of the boys are presented with flowers. After the game this year, the Varsity Club put on a "cider sip" for the club members, the Varsity Football Team, and the parents of the boys. To raise money, the club initiated the donkey basketball game, and it also handled the faculty game. At wrestling matches, basketball games, and other school sponsored activities, it operated a concession stand. This year the club sold cushions and programs for athletic events.

A second purpose for the Varsity Club is to honor letter winners. To qualify for membership, a boy must have earned a letter in any sport. Before he is accepted, he must submit a letter of application for admission and this must be accepted by the club. The applicant is required to abide by the athletics code of ethics, and the varsity club constitution.

1940 President Bruce Carpenter was assisted by his vice-president Rick Pruyne, treasurer, Bob Crowley, and secretary, Don Flynn.

Don't miss the right ear.

Teams within the club were formed in the following sports: volleyball, basketball, softball, track and field. A Valley track meet for girls was held at Athens. Members of the Athens team went to Sullivan High School for Junior Olympics. Many received awards on their performances. Play days also were held in bowling and swimming.

Library Aides Plan Annual Bookfair

The Library Aides are a group of forty-five students in grades seven through twelve. They try to help the teachers and students using the library to find books and magazines. These aides also collect fines, stamp out books, and keep everything in its right place so that it may be found by anyone using the library. This year the aides have been meeting every other week during activity periods. They plan the trips that they want to take. Semester dues are collected during these meetings. This money is used to take their trip or to have a party. A book fair is put on each year by the aides. The profit buys new books for the library.

Students Assist In Cafeteria Work

I'm always ready for seconds.

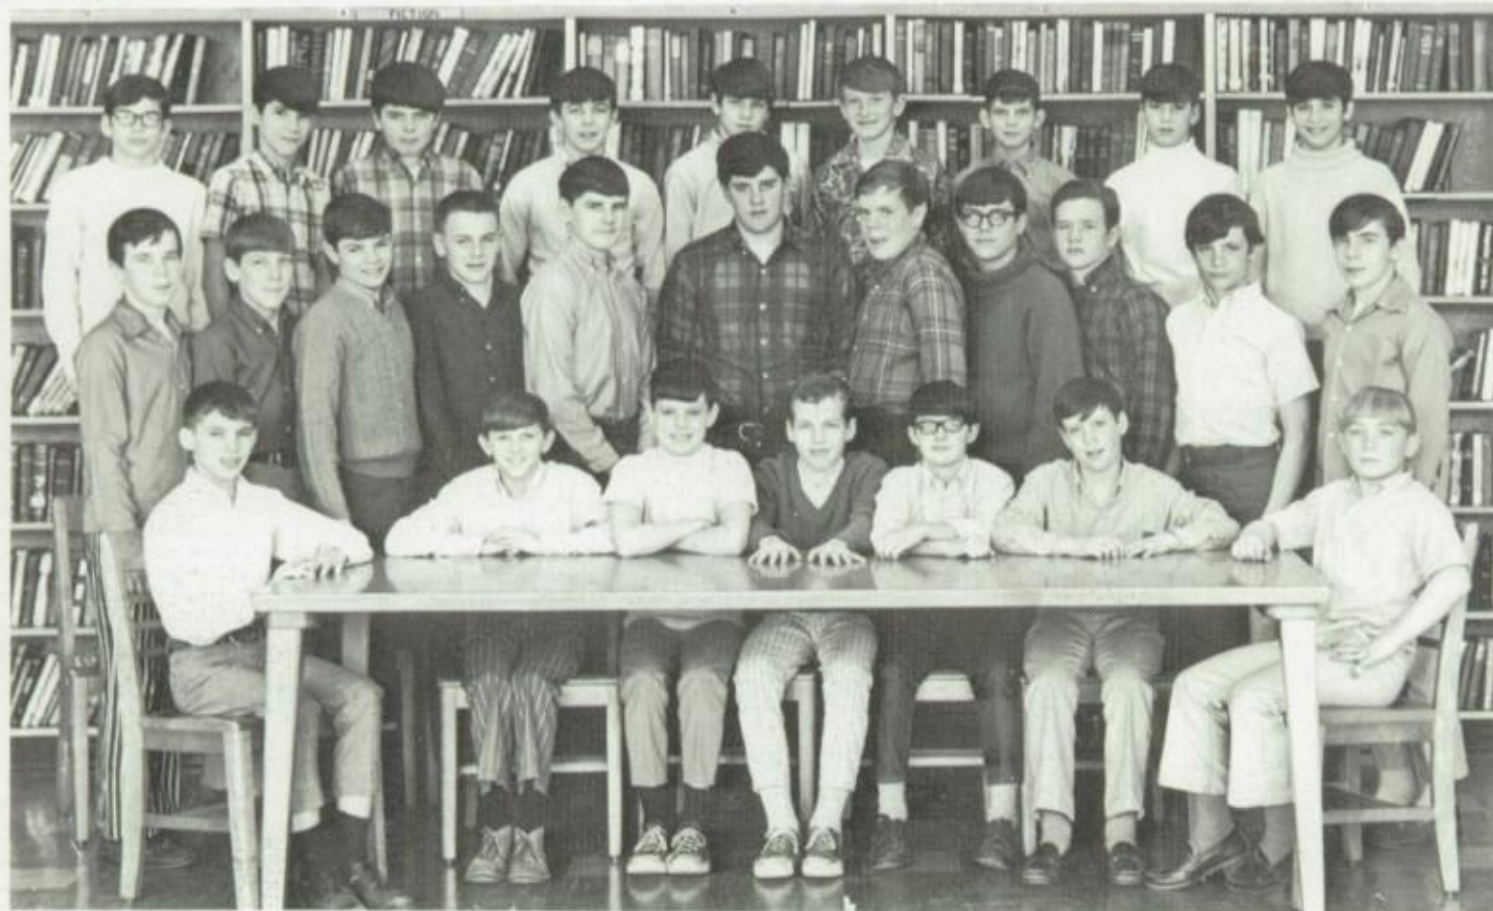

A vital part of our cafeteria staff is our student cafeteria helper group. These high-schoolers work daily in assisting the women in the kitchen. They are responsible for the collecting of trays, and washing of dishes. This group sees that the correct number of and tableware is available, and that the floors are freshly swept. This is Athens' only job opportunity during school hours.

For the purpose of training young boys to master the skills of grappling as a head start to J.V. and Varsity Wrestling, the 7th and 8th grade Wrestling Club was started. The boys meet the 2nd activity period of every week, but because the one goal of each member is to achieve perfection in wrestling holds and techniques, the club has no necessity for a slate of officers. Under the direction of Mr. Merritt, the members practice and meet other schools in interscholastic contests. In March, the Club sponsored a tournament at Athens in which ten area schools participated. The Club members also attended a tournament in Williamsport.

Synchro Swimming Organized

Under the direction of Mr. Peters and Mrs. Sheffler, sixty Athens students formed a synchronized swim club. Any high school pupil was welcome to join, the only requirement being regular attendance at practices during activity periods. During the fall, much attention was directed to basic positions in the water. Fundamental moves and stunts were added later, and finally synchronized routines were practiced. Each senior high girl was assigned a group of younger swimmers to train in preparation for a water ballet to be presented in the spring. In addition, the upperclassmen worked out their own routines several weeks in advance of the show. Throughout all practices, grace, timing, and creativity were stressed.

"This is not a thing to take Lightly!"

"I don't believe a word of it."

The Treble Aires is comprised of fifteen of the most vocally talented girls in Athens High School. They have performed for approximately thirty public funtions, including the Lions Club, Rotary and religious organizations. The Treble Aires sing both popular and classical music.

This year the Boys' Ensemble and the Treble Aires have combined into one group to provide one of the most distinctive vocal groups that Athens has ever possessed. They have performed together in their own Spring Concert and also at Baccalaureate and other public funtions.

"Your eyes are becoming very heavy . . ."

And Boys Ensemble Unite

The Boys' Ensemble was organized this year through the enthusiasm of nine vocally talented boys of the sophomore, junior, and senior classes. To prove their desire to be a group, they practiced twice weekly before school and also during activity periods before a concert. The group has performed in the Christmas concert and at several public functions as well as at both one act plays presented by the Stage Guild.

Stage Band Perform

Three groups — the Mixed Chorus, the Glee Club, and the Stage Band — are composed of select students who are joined together because of their ability and interest in music. All these groups have performed throughout the year in both the school and the community. In addition to its numerous local performances, the Glee Club was on tour several times during the year. Both the Glee Club and the Mixed Chorus purchased choir robes with funds raised by candy sales. Both the Mixed Chorus and the Glee Club were under the direction of Mr. William Allfrod, while the Stage Band was under the direction of Mr. Richard Swetland.

Practice Diligently

Under the direction of Miss Kell and Mr. Allford, each of these junior high choruses practiced during activity periods each week in preparation for their appearance in the two big concerts of the year — the Christmas Concert and the Spring Concert. Those students in the 7th and 8th grade choruses who showed ability at playing the piano were given opportunities to accompany their respective choruses. These junior high choral groups have made a very definite contribution to the musical program of A. H. S.
